

Utah as a State.

From time to time, we hear an outcry in regard to the intolerance (so-called) which has prevented the admission of Utah into the Union of States, while other Territories (certainly no more highly blessed either in population or extent of valuable or cultivable domain) have been freely admitted to all the benefits that the federation of States can confer upon them. Those who raise the outcry referred to, know full well that the trouble interfering with the admission of Utah is a very different one, and that it is not only not to be expected, but is simply and positively out of the question that any Territory shall knock and be admitted as a State which includes in the provisions of its Statutes, the institution of polygamy as a feature in its Laws or Constitution, or practice. It is idle for the people (we should rather say the wire-pullers) in Utah to expect that the Territory will be inaugurated as a State while such a provision remains upon the statute books of the Territory—while such a practice remains in vogue, and while the abominations of which this state of affairs is fearfully productive remain in sight of the world to testify against shallow pretense at religion and worse than outrageous crime perpetrated under the guise of religion, and under the same pretense of a sanctity different from that of ordinary mortals.

It is quite as well to face matters just as they are, and fairly and squarely to look in the face all the results necessarily dependent upon our actions. Among the many matters, touching which experience gives us a right to say that certain results will follow, we may evidence the admission of Utah as a State—which will only take place when she shall have cleansed herself fully and thoroughly of every taint of the horrid vice of polygamy, and even then it will have to be very evident that the one-man power is sufficiently repressed to give our Government clear cause for believing that the population thereby merged in the galaxy of States, will have sufficient sense not to be imposed upon by any idle delusions similar to those which in days past have been used for the purpose of imposing upon the ignorant and weak minded. The people of the United States are determined in regard to the kind of folly that shall for the future be looked upon by them with tolerance; and while many kinds of silliness may be passed by as amounting to nothing but mere surface talk, there are many other points which cannot be so palliated or allowed to sleep. Talk is said to be cheap, but it is clearly desirable that before we admit persons to our confidence and intimacy, we should know something about them. In the same manner our Government ought not and cannot allow a community to be foisted upon it, which, in morals and in practice, shall be a standing reproach to the morals and respects of the community with which it is incorporated; and so well is this understood on all hands, that it will be quite as well for the parties here who, from time to time, make a loud lament about the injustice done to Utah, to hold their peace, fully aware as they must be and are, that the injustice does not exist, and that whatever changes may take place politically, the general principles of right and wrong will still remain the same, and under these it is impossible for wholesale whoredom to exist under the sanction of our Government or any other that expects to stand.

We are under obligations to Hon. D. W. Cheesman, Assistant Treasurer of the U. S., at San Francisco, for the transmission of Treasury Documents.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

(SPECIAL TO THE DAILY UNION VEDETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12th.

The Herald's special says: Information is received that the rebels in the Shenandoah valley are reinforced, and are attempting to flank the position of Sheridan in order to at least threaten Pennsylvania and Maryland with an invasion. Sheridan, however, is prepared for them. Hearing of it on Wednesday last he has given marching orders to the army, which is in the finest and most effective condition.

Our dispatches from the front represent that the rebels were some days ago in force at Staunton, and that it was the intention to move on our lines at once.

A party of Mosby's guerrillas are disguised in Union uniforms, and yesterday morning attacked a small train near Charlestown, belonging to Sheridan's army train which was captured.

We learn from Little Rock that Capt White, of Steel's army, on the 23d after a fight of four hours captured an entire rebel train of 35 wagons and 200 horses. This is probably one of the trains sent ahead of the main force by Price with the intention of saving it.

The Richmond Sentinel of Wednesday says: A large fleet of iron clads are in James river below Dutch Gap. It also says that the Union soldiers are not yet making any preparations for winter quarters, and that it is rumored that Grant contemplates a move on Wilmington by way of Weldon, and that he is already sending troops to the latter place.

The Herald's New Orleans correspondent says: Our gunboats are watching the mouth of Red River for three very formidable rebel rams, which are expected to come down so soon as the water rises sufficiently.

Jeff. Davis' currency has been almost entirely set aside by the Texas rebels, only gold and silver are being accepted.

But little news from Mobile. Our gunboats made experiments in shelling the city for three hours every day.

Late Richmond papers contain proceedings of the rebel Congress. The Judiciary committee were directed to inquire into the expediency of requiring citizens liable to military duty, absent from the country and not on public business, to return and assist in the public defence, on pain of confiscation of property and disfranchisement after the war, or other adequate penalty.

North Carolina papers say that Washington in that State has been evacuated by the rebel troops.

A Herald Matamoras letter of the 27th ult., says: Cortinas having become an Imperialist has been sent on an expedition after his brother, who is at the head of a band of guerrillas.

Juarez is at Chihuahua with 2,000 troops, and is said to be fortifying the place with the determination of standing a siege.

At a recent public dinner in Matamoras, one of Maximilian's officers, gave a toast for the Union of the Southern Confederacy and Mexico, which was received with great applause and the performance by the Band of "Bonnie Blue Flag."

CINCINNATI, Nov. 12th.

The Gazette's Nashville dispatch denies the reported evacuation and burning of Atlanta, and the destruction of the Chattanooga railroad.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.

A gentleman from the Valley to-day states a larger part of Sheridan's army is in the neighborhood of Winchester, while the enemy is at New Market, receiving reinforcements. There have been no active military moves recently.

CHATTANOOGA, Nov. 11.

An arrival from the front reports that on Monday at daylight the enemy attacked our pickets south of Atlanta, but subsequently fell back.

The election on Tuesday was quiet and resulted largely in favor of Lincoln.

Wednesday forenoon the enemy made an attack on Atlanta Shells are being thrown as far as Soling Mills. A most desperate attack was made by the enemy's artillery on the south of the roads, within 100 yards of our mortars. Their infantry and dismounted cavalry were within two hundred yards of our men, who, when aroused from their slumber, quickly manned the defences and soon drove the rebels off. No Federal loss. The enemy finally retreated towards Macon.

Our army is in excellent spirits and well supplied with rations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.

This evening's Washington Star says it deems it not improper at this time to state that Sherman's army has been heavily reinforced, and otherwise strengthened in cavalry,—all his dismounted having been re-mounted. A force under Thomas is now in Hood's front. Thomas has also been reinforced and strengthened sufficient to insure that Hood can do no damage to speak of in Tennessee or Kentucky—which seems to be his aim. Sherman is operating with his other five corps in different bodies in Hood's rear, and is already between him and any possible line for his retreat south, when he sees necessity of so doing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.

The appropriations of the last session of Congress exceed $735,000,000, not including interest on the public debt.

The Commercial's special says Sheridan has handsomely checked the movements of Early on our flank. He has sent them back and prevented the contemplated advance on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Head-Quarters Army Potomac, 11.

On Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock a force of the enemy were discovered massing in front of our line near Ft. Steadman. The guns of the fort opened fire, driving them to their works. The rebel batteries replied briskly for a time, but were soon silenced by our shells and mortars. A force of about 150 rebels made a sortie from their lines and attempted to penetrate ours, but being met by a salute from our pickets, they were not long in finding their way back. As the enemy seemed determined to pursue the policy of shooting at every man they see, our men are forced to retaliate. Our pickets in front of the 2nd corps were briskly engaged most of last night. Reports of musketry at times are almost continuous.

The Commercial's special says the rebel authorities have made a proposition to our Government, asking leave to purchase blankets in Northern cities for their prisoners, paying therefor in cotton. The question is under advisement. The Post's special says Richmond papers on Thursday were greatly exercised over Lincoln's election.

Hood is said to be marching on Chattanooga. The rebels are confident that Grant is preparing for another battle. The rebel journals almost unanimously censure the arming of negroes.

CAPE RACE, Nov. 12.

The Nova Scotia from Liverpool 3rd and Londondary 4th. It was thought the steamer Laurel from Liverpool, had transferred her crew, arms and ammunition to the steamer New Alabama, of Maderia. The London Herald editorially denounces the capture of the Florida in indignant terms. The Times says the capture of the Florida in a harbor in a friendly state, is simply an act of piracy. The Herald says if the Washington Government does not release the Florida, all maritime powers have a right to interfere in the matter.

NEW YORK, 12th.

A Washington special says Gen. Banks is soon to take charge of the Navy Department, and has reasons to believe the course to be adopted in reference to infringement on the Brazilian sovereignty in the capture of the Florida will be substantially the transmission of a dispatch stating that this government will be glad to give favorable consideration on any proposition which Brazil may have to make.

A letter to the Post mentions several instances as similar, by Great Britain, and thinks no trouble can ensue in the Florida case.

Lord Lyons is lying very ill with typhoid fever.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12th.

The World this morning acknowledges the defeat of Seymour, and says, we have lost the State, both Electoral vote and Governor.

A letter from Matamoras says: When Mejia was known to be advancing on the city within a day's march, most of the foreigners claimed protection of the respective Consuls. Mr. Beldin, former merchant of Brownsville, and claiming to be a rebel Consul, was recognized by Cortinas and permitted to deliver certificates of rebel nationality.

Monterey is now occupied by a brigade of French troops under Gen. Decasing. He recently sent Gen. Vidauri with an escort to the City of Mexico, for the purpose of taking the oath of allegiance to Emperor Maximilian.

The Union and Confederate forces are on the lower Rio Grande, and neither attempting to molest each other.

It is reported that three pieces of artillery arrived at Brownsville, and more expected, which the Confederates await to make an attack on the Federal garrison at Brazos. The forces on either side are very small.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13th.

The Peruvian from Liverpool the 1st, and Queenstown the 2d: John Leech, the celebrated London Punch caricaturist is dead.

A treaty of peace was finally signed at Vienna, October 13th—ratifications to be exchanged in three weeks afterwards. The evacuation of Jutland will take place three weeks after the ratifications.

A terrific hurricane visited Calcutta, October 5th. Of 200 ships in Hooghly, 19 were totally lost. Of the remainder, only 80 are reported as sea worthy. One hundred and fifty were driven from their moorings, and stranded and damaged. No serious loss of European lives. It is believed that the greater portion of the cargoes will be saved. Much excitement at Lloyd's in view of the heavy losses.

The Japan allies silenced the Japanese forts and forced a passage.

ESCAPE OF A SCOUT FROM REBEL PRISONS.—One of Gen. Howard's secret scouts—James Cobb—who was captured by the enemy at the commencement of this campaign, has just returned after a long and severe confinement in Southern prisons, from which he made three unsuccessful attempts to escape, and each time was heavier shackled and closer confined. The last attempt at which he was caught was nearly complete when foiled. He had filed off his shackles and got over the prison yard fence when arrested by a Provost Guard. The last time he made beef bone keys to unlock his shackles and the padlocks of his doors, and finally escaped in the night, traveled openly in a butter-nut suit from Macon to Griffin, where he struck across the west side of the Chattahoochee river and followed it up till he met some of our cavalry, who escorted him into our lines. He is now safe. He was to have been hung the following Friday when he escaped. His treatment in prison and his escape told hard on him; but a stout constitution and firm will, such as make a successful scout, enabled him to weather it. His ankles are heavily furrowed by the shackles he wore, with ball and chain, the marks of which he will bear long after this war is over.—Cor. N. Y. Herald.

STARTLING NEWS FROM GREEN RIVER.—Under the above startling head the Owensboro Monitor thus discourses:

A few days ago a solitary horseman, of the guerrilla persuasion, appeared upon the outskirts of the city of Curdsville, on Green river, and, after a brief reconnaissance, wherein he assured himself that there were not more than thirty-five men in the place, he made a bold dash upon the city, taking its occupants completely by surprise.

As there was no gunboat in the river to "shell" him or bombard the town, he proceeded leisurely to his work of plunder. He loaded himself with drygoods from the stores, and obtained from sales, which opened at his bidding, a few hundred dollars in greenbacks, and then left the town.

We are happy to chronicle that he did not burn the city, steal any horses, nor kill any one, though he made a villainous attempt at murder, discharging his pistol at a merchant who was a little dilatory about opening his safe.

It is due the pacific citizens of Curdsville to say that they were unarmed. One man told the robber that he would give him battle if supplied with the implements of war, whereupon the guerrilla smiled approvingly and complimented him for his courage.

Local Matters.

THEATRE.—We have pleasure in forming the lovers of the legitimate drama, select burlesque, or roaring farce, that our Theater will soon be opened with as fine a Company as ever crossed this Territory. Mr. Edwin Walton, is direct from New York, and has with him a choice selection of dramas, burlesques and farces, which he intends "bringing out" in as good a style as our small Theater will permit. The workmen are busily engaged putting up dressing rooms, arranging the limited stock of scenery to the best advantage, and making all necessary alterations that will enable them to present a good play and secure the comfort of the audience. The Theater will be opened as soon as these alterations are completed.

Our insertion a few days since of the vote cast by Capt. Albert Brown's command en route to Fort Kearney, should have appeared thus:

Weber Station, Nov. 8.

The Platte expedition cast 138 votes straight for Abraham's bosom, and none for the "other fellow."

The Captain seems offended at our application of the term "boys" when referring to the noble defenders of the flag now in his command, and desires us to be solely responsible for the appellation.

The dance at the Camp Hall on Monday evening last was a pleasant affair. All the participants were in the most amiable mood possible, and each vied one with the other in making themselves and every one around them happy. We could not but note the pleasing contrast in the management of this Party, with that of the two or three previous Balls in our Camp.

What is the matter with the mails? We received three letters from Fort Bridger yesterday, each bearing the date of November 6th, 1864. Rather slow time this.

BILLY SHEPARD, the pleasing negro delineator, takes a benefit at the Camp Theater, to-night. Give him a crowded house.

We would call attention to the advertisement of Rosenbaum & Newman, in another column.

AARON NEWSON.

No enslaved people ever regain their independence, or become formidable to their enslaver without "illegal" (in the enslaver's sense) pre-organization. Poland had its illegal (in the Russian sense) organization long before those glorious "legions of despair" unfurled the flag of revolution. Had Italy no illegal (in the Austrian sense) organization, the sword of McMahon had never flashed in victory on the field of Magenta. Had not the American colonies of England their trained militia, the "trampled province" could not have sprung into a "free and glorious Republic." Hungary was pre-organized. But why multiply instances? The lesson which history teaches to struggling nationalities, and illustrates by many a bright and many a dark example, is that pre-organization is essential to success.

With it there may be defeat and glory. Without it there must be defeat and shame. Some politicians seem to think anything approaching a military organization impossible in Ireland. But its possibility and feasibility, when guided by courage, prudence, devotion and ability, have been proved to our satisfaction; and this fact is the very foundation of our conviction that the day of our deliverance is at hand. We say our deliverance, for the privileges of living among a free people and of sharing the blessings of free institutions, but make us feel the more keenly the sufferings and degradation of our own old land. But our hearts swell with hope and exultation when we think of the living fire that burns within her shores, defying the combined efforts of the open foe and false friend to extinguish it. No matter how powerful and devoted her exiled children might be, we should tremble for the issue were there no true men left in Ireland, no worthy descendants and disciples of the heroes of '98. We do not wonder at the enemy's persistent endeavors to emasculate or to banish you.

Americans already admit that the non-recognition of the revolted States by England is due to the attitude which the Irish people have assumed, both at home and in this Republic. If the Irish people at home and abroad were united in a band of brotherhood for the salvation of their own country, would the United States hesitate for an hour to strike a blow which would be followed by two inevitable results—peace in America and liberty in Ireland?

A deep responsibility rests upon Irishmen in the present generation. The fate of their country trembles in the balance. Emigration is doing its exhausting work. Other influences are leagued with the oppressor to quench the spirit which has triumphed over the dungeon and the scaffold, and which even famine could not kill. Let us falter now, and Ireland's doom is sealed; a grand old nation—grand even in her chains—is blotted from the map of the world. But there shall be no faltering, no cowardice. Our country cries to us for aid, and points to the grave which the foe has dug for her. Armed legions shall interpose between her and that grave.

"It is all stuff," as the lady said to her husband, who was complaining of dyspepsia after a public dinner.
